

UKRAINIAN ROTARY POWER

The development of Ukrainian Army Aviation

Nearly 14 years after gaining independence and following numerous restructuring programs aimed at creating a leaner and meaner organization, three Brigades of Army Aviation remain in Ukraine, while important new missions have been added to their normal task of national defense. Most evident is the vital role the Ukrainian Army Aviation plays in many international peacekeeping missions, providing logistical support and airborne policing capacity around the globe. In this exclusive report, we take a look at the service today and bring you some superb air-to-air photography of 'Hinds' and 'Hips' in their element
